

What to bring

Since we must travel 20 miles by cabin cruiser across a lake to reach the camp and carry many people and their gear at a time, we ask that you travel as light as possible.

The most important thing to bring, more important even than your fishing gear, is excellent rainwear, including waterproof boots. If you can stay dry in bad weather, you will always be comfortable.

- ◆ Average daytime highs are: May 60s, June 70s, July and August 75-85, September 60s.

Guests coming in May or September might want a set of heavy clothes. No matter when you come, bring both a swimsuit and long underwear!

T-shirts and jeans or shorts with lightweight boots or sneakers are comfortable almost all summer.

You'll want a jacket for morning and evenings. Don't forget sunscreen.

And, oh yes, bring a spare set of car keys!

Housekeepers, support the Red Lake fishing industry by buying your groceries here. You will have more room on the trip up allowing you to drive a more fuel-efficient vehicle and save gas and money.

Ask to have your groceries packed in boxes instead of bags. This is a common request here.

Please, do not bring...

1. Electrical appliances. Our generator and electrical system cannot handle them. Ladies, small hair-dryers are OK.
2. Beer and soft drinks in glass bottles. Bring cans instead. Try to avoid glass jars of food items if possible as well.
3. Heavy coolers of ice.
4. Duffel bags and totes big enough to hide a body.
5. More food and drink than needed for your stay.
6. Cast iron pots and pans. Our cabins are outfitted with cast iron frying pans already. If you need a special-size pot, ask to borrow one at the lodge.
7. Barbecues and charcoal. We have them for you.
8. Propane fish cookers and 20-pound tanks. We can loan you one.
